As of Friday, 28-year-old Bay St. Louis firefighter Michael Guitreau was back in surgery for injuries sustained to his left leg, Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Monty Strong said.

Strong said Friday that Guitreau will be flown to Jackson, where doctors will continue to repair his right leg and a fracture to his L7 lumbar.

Guitreau was on his way to work Wednesday morning when he was involved in a motor vehicle accident.

According to a release from the Bay St. Louis Police Department, officers responded to Highway 603 at the Kiln-Waveland Cutoff Road at 6:56 a.m.

"Upon arrival, officers determined that a motorcy-

"The driver (Guitreau) of the motorcycle sustained injuries and was transported to a local hospital for treatment. The driver of the car was not injured."

Ponthieux said in the release that the accident is

RAISE THE ROOF

A crew from Mandal's Inc. based in Gulfport works Friday to replace the roof of the historic Hancock County Courthouse in downtown Bay St. Louis. Hancock Board of Supervisors President Blaine LaFontaine said the work was part of phase 1 of renovations at the courthouse, which will cost an estimated $350,000. The cost includes slate roofing, which is the only material the Mississippi Department of Archives and History would approve for the historic structure; and preserving historic drains and gutters on the roof. Phase 2, which should go out to bids within the next 45 days, will include ADA modifications and security upgrades at the courthouse, LaFontaine said.

Supers open bids for bridge replacements on East Lake Cypress Drive and Flat Top Road

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday opened bids for the removal and replacement of the bridges on East Lake Cypress Drive and Everett Branch Bridge on Flat Top Road, which one resident - who lives near the East Lake Cypress Drive - told the board needs to be replaced as soon as possible.

First the board opened bids for the removal and replacement of the bridge on East Lake Cypress Drive. The first bid was from SCI Inc. for a total project cost of $491,637. The second bid was from Gill's Crane and Dozer Services Inc. for a total project cost of $483,980.

Randy Lietz, who lives near the East Cypress Lake Drive bridge, told the board that after it rains about 3-4 inches, residents "can't get out at all" with the bridge being out.

On Saturday night, Lietz said, there was almost "four feet of water running over the dam in the back part." By Sunday, it was three feet, he said.

"My wife was unable to go to work until almost 2 o'clock in the afternoon and she had to be at work for 10," Lietz said. "Without that bridge being there, anybody that lives back there, we've got kids that go to Hancock High School, middle

3D printing at BSL Library

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

In addition to grabbing a favorite author's newest bestseller, researching a topic and surfing the Internet, patrons of the Hancock County Library System can now utilize the library's 3D printer at the Bay St. Louis branch. HCLS's Digital Literacy Coordinator Natalie Daspit said the library obtained the 3D printer about a year ago through grant funding. "It's a tool used to print 3D designs made on the computer," Daspit said. "It's like a hot glue gun. Material is fed into the hot end and it shoots out strings of plastic, building the object up one layer at a time." Last week during National Library Week, Daspit made four 3D designs of famous sculptures: Moses by Michelangelo; Ares Borghese by an unknown sculptor; Winged Victory of Samothrace by an unknown sculptor; and Athena of Velletri by an unknown sculptor (thought to be Kresilas). Printing designs are "time-sensitive," Daspit said. The smallest of the four sculptures took about 24-hours, she said. Daspit said patrons can design objects from scratch using 3D design programs and utilizing several free online resources. Currently, Daspit said, the library prints about one 3D design a week. Anyone can use the printer and the cost is $1 per 15 grams of material, Daspit said. "A small object may only be $2," she said. Patrons can visit the library and sign up to use the printer. "It's on a first-come, first-serve basis," Daspit said. "There is a wait list now." The sculptures are still on display at the library for the public's viewing. "It's a really great resource," Daspit said. "People can see the new things that technology lets us do. People can even

P.J.'s Coffee Shop and Creole Creamery. The move sparked a controversy among some residents, who said they felt a drive-through business would either alter Old Town's atmosphere or be unsafe for pedestrians.

MDAH last month requested the city issue the stop-work order because the MacPhailles' plan had not yet fully complied with the terms of the state's legal covenant on the properties.

However, MDAH Deputy State Historic Preservation Officer Kenneth H. P'Pool said in a letter to Mayor Mike Favre this week, MDAH "has worked closely and extensively with the property owner, Jim MacPhaille, and his architect, Hank Smith, to address numerous aspects of the originally proposed project that did not comply with the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation of Historic Buildings."

P'Pool said MacPhaille and Smith had modified the original project to conform with those provisions, and MDAH "has reviewed and approved the revised plans and, therefore, will be issuing a letter to the property owner authorizing him to proceed with the project as illustrated in the revised plans and specifications."

P'Pool said that even though MDAH was aware that the drive-through was "an issue of particular concern to many local citizens," it did not violate the Standards for Rehabilitation as long as it did not "appreciably alter the historic appearance" of the building.

"In this case, the architect has modified the original plan to locate a window (that could be utilized as a drive-through-window) in a new addition on the rear of the historic structure," P'Pool said, "and designed it to resemble the existing windows of the historic structure (rather than the appearance of a strip-development's fast-food drive-through)."

Waveland revisits Days Frontier after demolition and plan submission deadline passes

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen on Wednesday revisited the topic of the former Days Frontier building and took no official action after the property owner failed to meet the April 13 deadline for demolition and submission of new construction plans.

At the April 3 meeting, the board voted 3-0 (Alderman Shane LaFontaine did not attend the April 3 meeting) to an April 13 deadline for demolition — with the red iron standing — with completion and submission of plans stamped by an engineer to the city's building inspector Josh Hayes.

The April 3 motion also included — if plans were approved — a "90-day-drop-dead deadline reserving all rights from the Dec. 5 order (authorizing a full demolition), but with the applicant being able to request additional time from the board at the most in 30-day increments."

The motion also stated that the applicant will have no right to appeal the city of Waveland's denial for an extension request.

"If we don't know anything by next Friday (April 13), then we'll stand by the Dec. 5 order," city attorney Gary Yarborough told Bill Carriagee, who spoke on the owner's behalf, at the April 3 meeting.

Hayes said Wednesday that he has yet to receive a set of plans.

Both Hayes and Waveland Mayor Mike Smith said calls to Carriagee have gone unanswered.

Hayes said that as of Wednesday, "it is basically red steel now." He added that on Monday, some of the exterior still remained. Hayes said that the bolts and iron went underwater, which could affect well depth.

At the April 3 meeting, the board-approved motion also included an ultrasound of the metal.

LaFontaine said that the property is now just reduced to a slab and the red iron.

"As far as the red iron going under water, let's face it, every building in Waveland went under water," he said.

"If that was the case, we would have to bulldoze every thing. So I don't agree with the fact that just because it went under water, you gotta tear the red iron down. There are ways to treat it and things like that. That's just my opinion."

Smith said that the city has the red iron now, which was requested, but no plans.

"To me, the red steel there would be the hope of a business coming back versus us tearing down or bulldozing and then nobody builds there," Smith said.

Hayes told the board that "we haven't received any documentation to back up this structure at all."

Hayes added that there are a lot of things "teeter-tottering" structurally.

"The way it's standing now, it's actually a nuisance," Hayes said. "How long is it going to stay like this? When are they going to present the plans? Without a building permit, it's a nuisance."

Alderman Jeremy Burke said that "the steel" and "sign" needs to go. He said he could "concede" to the board if it decides to allow the slab to stay.

Hayes said without the red iron, the property is safer and that the property owner could put a metal building on top of the slab.

"With them not submitting to the guidelines, you've already made your record from the public hearing," Yarborough said. "If you're going to demo it, you can authorize city personnel to do it, if you think city personnel can do it, if not you're going to have to get quotes otherwise because it is the nature of construction work."

Burke made a motion to obtain quotes. The motion failed for lack of a second.

No other motions were made.

In other action:

The board approved a motion — after a public hearing in which no one spoke in favor or opposition to — to declare the property located at 124 Lakeside Dr. a public nuisance. The board approved another motion authorizing city personnel to obtain quotes for demolition of the structure.

The board approved a motion authorizing the mayor to sign an agent of record letter with Betz Rosetti and Associates, Inc. for pursuing the auto and inland marine policies; and surety bonds for the city of Waveland.

The board approved a motion authorizing Smith to sign a letter to the health department requesting that it authorize the city to cut off the Davis Street Water Tower from the city of Waveland water system and maintain the premises as a structure to be used for satellite and radio purposes.

City comptroller Ron Duckworth presented the March financial update.

The total cash on hand for governmental activities is about $7.2 million. The total cash on hand for business activities is about $2.5 million.

Duckworth said that ad valorem collections are equivalent to this time last year. Sales tax collections for the month were about $38,928 below budget, Duckworth said.

Building department revenues year-to-date are $79,900. General fund expenditures continue to remain lower than budget year to date by $108,274, Duckworth said.

Utility revenues are about 1.66 percent over budget for the first six months of the budget year, he said. Duckworth attributed that to the colder temperatures in the beginning of the year and the increased use of utilities, such as continuously running the water. He added that March billings are "back in line with budget expectations."

The next aldermen meeting is scheduled for May 1 at 6:30 p.m.

Ben Foreman to remain Bay High's football coach for the 2018-2019 school year

Monty Noblitt named BWSD's athletic director

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The Bay-Waveland School District Board of Trustees on Thursday approved Superintendent Vikki Landry's appointment of Ben Foreman as Bay High School's football coach for the 2018-2019 school year.

The motion passed 3-2. Trustees Casey Favre, Vicki Arnold and Ann Lathrop voted "yes." Trustees Mark Kidd and Mike Bell voted "no."

Last month, dozens of students wrote anonymous letters in support of Foreman after former BWSD Athletic Director Vernon Powell announced that the football program would be led by a different coach.

At the March 12 meeting, students attended the meeting wearing #foremanismycoach t-shirts. Favre told the students that the school board could only take action based on recommendations made by the athletic director or superintendent.

Foreman said Thursday he was "relieved to know for sure."

"I'm anxious to get back out there and tell the team," he said.

Spring training begins

Monday, April 23 and will continue through May 10, Foreman said.

The blue and gold game is scheduled for May 10 at 5:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

He said he is looking forward to getting back to coach and improving day-to-day efforts.

The board also approved Landry's recommendation of Monty Noblitt as BWSD's athletic director for the 2018-2019 school year.

Prior to the vote, Bell asked Landry how many candidates applied for the position.

Landry said that 28 applied and two were interviewed.

Bell asked, "who interviewed them?"

Landry said, "Dr. Reed."

At the April 4 school board meeting, the board approved a superintendent's four-year contract with Dr. Sandra Reed, which begins on July 1.

The motion passed 3-2. Favre, Arnold and Lathrop voted "yes." Kidd and Bell voted "no."

According to his resume, Noblitt's most recent position is assistant principal at Hancock Middle School. From 2016 to 2017, he was the assistant principal at Bay-Waveland Middle School.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

by Fr. Jerome Ledoux, SVD

Is Medishare all it's cracked up to be?

Denis and Claire Thibault stood up at the end of the Sunday 5:30 p.m. Mass at Holy Ghost Church in Opelousas and introduced themselves as visitors from Quebec, Canada. After greeting the folks filing out, I made my way back in and found the affable couple fully engaged in conversation with a few church members. Joining in, I was amazed at the visitors' enthusiasm and friendliness.

Returning to the sacristy to divest, I invited them to come along with me. The opportunity to sharpen my French a bit was a by-product of the constant chatter that ensued until the couple and I were alone. "We were amazed," observed Claire, "at the reverential silence of the people in church before the Mass. Denis and I have not seen this anywhere else. And the prayers and the singing were all wonderful."

After a fascinating conversation that somehow worked its way into Canadian free healthcare, they asked hopefully would it be all right if they parked overnight on the parking lot where their large SUV was. "We would like to camp here. We have everything we need in our vehicle: water, a restroom, light and provisions. "Of course!" was my quick response. Fast-forwarding to 7:00 o'clock the next morning, Denis and Claire were there for the Mass. Meeting many more friends after the Mass, they eventually rolled toward Lafayette with fond goodbyes from us.

Since a column-to-be on healthcare was sitting in my computer, I went straight online to healthcare in Canada. Although healthcare is called free, it is paid for by everyone through sundry government taxes with no health-dedicated taxes, making it impossible to know how much a particular person pays. But the total expenses of Healthcare spending in Canada (in 1997 dollars) has increased each year between 1975 and 2009, from $39.7 billion to $137.3 billion, or per capita spending from $1,715 to $4089. In 2013 the total reached $211 billion, averaging $5,988 per person. Later, accessing healthcare in Sweden, I found suspect problems similar to those of Canada, "Challenges include funding, quality and efficiency of its healthcare services." Waiting for vital health services can reach into months.

Average 10-10-16 premiums/deductibles for U.S.A. unsubsidized shoppers:

Premiums for individual coverage averaged $321 per month, premiums for family plans averaged $833 per month. The average annual deductible for individual plans was $4,358, the average deductible for family plans was $7,983.

In Obamacare, the average deductible on a bronze plan topped $6,000 in 2017 for an individual and nearly $12,400 for a family. Health Department officials acknowledge that Obamacare premiums and deductibles can be pricey, especially for those who don't qualify for

Wicker Looks Ahead as Americans Say Goodbye to Broken Tax Code

New Tax System Boosts Take-Home Pay, Promotes Job Growth

For all of the headaches that usually accompany Tax Day, this year brings some needed relief. This Tax Day was the last time Americans had to file their taxes under an outdated and woefully complicated tax code. Because of the "Tax Cuts and Jobs Act" enacted last year, Americans will now file their taxes under a code that lets them keep more of what they earn.

I strongly supported the Republican plan to cut taxes and reform the tax code because it prioritizes the success of American workers and middle class families. In fact, a less stressful Tax Day is just one of the advantages of the new system.

The goal of tax reform is to make every day of the year less stressful for Americans by cultivating the kind of confidence in our nation's economy and workforce that leads to higher wages and better job opportunities. A pro-growth tax code sends this signal to our workers and our job creators, putting more money back into the hands of those who earned it.

Widespread Savings for Workers, Families

By now, most Americans should have started to notice the impact of the tax law in their paychecks. The new federal withholding guidelines based on the law's lower tax rates took effect in February, and the Treasury Department has estimated 90 percent of U.S. workers will now bring home more of their wages rather than sending them to Uncle Sam.

These changes might seem small now, but they are expected to add up to significant savings for families, empowering them to plan for the future and offering relief when finances get tight. According to the Tax Foundation, an average family making the median income in Mississippi could keep hundreds of dollars more this year than they would under the old system.

Other provisions in the newly updated tax code, such as the doubling of the standard deduction for individuals and couples, could have a big impact on savings during next year's tax season. The standard deduction helps simplify the filing process and save time, eliminating the need for many Americans to itemize deductions or spend money on tax preparation.

Out With the Old, In With the New

Not everything about the new tax code is different. The updated code expands and preserves popular items, including the child tax credit and incentives that support Americans' savings for education and retirement. For example, the child tax credit is now $2,000 instead of $1,000.

One item that will not be missed is the requirement for every American to purchase health insurance. Republicans successfully repealed the unpopular individual mandate tax in President Obama's health-care law — a penalty that has fallen heavily on hardworking Americans.

I am excited to see how these changes to the tax code help improve American lives and ignite our economy toward growth and prosperity. A groundswell has begun, with more than 500 companies using their tax savings to benefit employees. So far, more than four million Americans will receive bonuses. Now that this year's Tax Day has come and gone, we have a great deal to look forward to thanks to a simpler new system and more take-home pay.

National Bike Month is right around the corner

National Bike Month, which was established in 1956, is a great inspiration and motivation for everyone to get out and cycle, especially as the weather gets warmer here in Mississippi. During the Week of May 14-18, 2018, The League of American Bicyclists is promoting National Bike to Work Week and Bike to Work Day on Friday, May 18. Now is a great time to discuss bike safety.

First and foremost, the helmet is a very important piece of safety equipment. By law, all helmets sold in the United States must meet standards set by the Consumer Products Safety Commission (CPSC). Some helmets are also endorsed by the non-profit Snell Foundation, but the CPSC stamp of approval is what matters. Improperly wearing a helmet can be more dangerous than not wearing one at all. For a proper fitting helmet, make sure no more than three fingers fit between the chin and the helmet strap. When pushing the helmet from the back for-them and obey them. Keep right: drive with the traffic, not against it. Drive single left turn. Most accidents happen at intersections. Drive your bike defensively; watch out for the other person.

Biking will allow you to not only enjoy your surroundings; you will also save money—especially with the price of gas these days—and enjoy some healthy benefits. Cycling reduces air, water, and noise pollution. You don't have to pay for automobile insurance or gasoline. You will reduce stress and improve your cardiovascular health, which is something that many Mississippians need to be thinking about.

Riding your bike is a fun, lifelong activity you can enjoy in a variety of climates. It is also a great means to see the world around you.

In honor of National Bike Month, National Bike to Work Week and Bike to Work Day, watch your local paper, television, or listen to your local radio for specific events in your community.

ward, the helmet should not touch the bridge of the nose. It should sit squarely and securely one or two fingers above the eyebrow. When pushing the helmet upward and back from the front, the helmet should not go above the forehead.

Some rules of the road are: Obey all traffic regulations, signs, signals, and markings. Bicycles are subject to the same rules of vehicular traffic, wherever they apply. Observe all local ordinances pertaining to bike safety. It is your responsibility to know file. Keep as close to the curb as practical. Watch out for drain grates, soft shoulders, and other road surface hazards. Watch out for car doors opening and for cars pulling into traffic. Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with your vision or control. Never hitch a ride on a truck or other vehicle. Use hand signals to indicate turning or stopping. Protect yourself at night with the required reflectors and lights. Be extremely careful at intersections, especially when making a subsidies. As of November 4, 2016, CNN Money reported that Obamacare is not really affordable for the middle class.

With this motley background, we ask the question, "Is MediShare all that it's cracked up to be?" If you are searching for cheaper healthcare solutions, including health reimbursement arrangements (HRAs) and healthcare sharing ministries, one such healthcare sharing ministry is MediShare, the second-largest healthcare sharing ministry in the U.S. It is a cost-sharing program set up as a faith-based 501c3 not-for-profit organization. Members share religious beliefs and values and use these as a cornerstone for their medical expense distributions.
MediShare members contribute a fixed dollar amount each month to their own savings account. A member of the community who is ill and needs help paying medical expenses, submits a request for the amount needed to cover the bill. If approved, the request is paid directly to the healthcare provider by using funds from all the members' savings accounts.

As in traditional health insurance policies, there is usually a set amount that each family/individual has to pay – ranging from about $500 to $10,000 – before submitting requests to the MediShare for assistance. MediShare members are part of a preferred provider organization (PPO), meaning they receive pre-negotiated rates when they use providers in that network. If a member uses a non-PPO physician or facility, there may be additional personal financial responsibility.
However, Certain pre-existing conditions, such as diabetes, require a member to pay an additional monthly amount. Since MediShare is faith-based, they have specific rules for members: church attendance, no alcohol or drugs, a moral life – don't snicker – and a specific statement of faith. MediShare cannot be used with Health Savings Accounts (HSAs) or reimbursement plans. Yes, MediShare works.

MARY ELIZABETH (MIMI) MCCONNELL SHERROUSE

ROBERT LEE DAVIS, JR.

Robert Lee Davis, Jr. 79, of Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, passed away on March 16, 2018, after a short illness.

Bob loved his family and working with people. His warmth, charm and problem-solving abilities will be greatly missed. Bob's sense of humor could prevail in very trying circumstances, including composing a limerick about Hurricane Katrina while shoving mud out thru a hole in the floor of his home! Bob was a kind and generous person. His volunteer activities included working with the Hancock County and Mississippi Democrats and with the Bay Waveland Yacht Club. Bob was born and brought up in Salisbury, North Carolina. He graduated from North Carolina State University with a degree in geological engineering. After graduation he spent two years in the Army Corps of Engineers. He went on to become a lifelong civil servant, working with the Department of Defense. His last position was as the business manager for the "Stars and Stripes," the American military newspaper that focuses and reports on matters concerning the members of the United States Armed Forces.

He loved sports from an early age and was the quarterback for his high school football team when it won the N. C. state championship. He went on many annual week-long bike tours throughout Virginia; shortly after retirement he crossed the U. S. on a tour from the Pacific to the shores of the Carolinas, making many enduring friendships on the way. He played tennis for many years and sailed in races on the Chesapeake and later at the Bay Waveland Yacht Club.

He loved poetry. One of his last books was a collection of Robert Frost's poems; Chris Blanchard, a son-in-law, read a poem out loud to him while they were having coffee recently. Bob had really enjoyed a lecture by Frost at N. C. State. Birds were another love of his, purple martins especially.

Bob was the son of Ophelia Wood Cozzens and Robert Lee Davis who had resided in Salisbury, N.C. In addition to his wife, Sibyl Tatum Ramsey, he is survived by his daughter, Patricia Lee Davis (Jefferey Reese); his sister, Patricia Wood Davis (Richard Waldsmith); step children: Ken Paul Oliver, Lara Lawler Blanchard (Chris), Cher Hetty Drago (Gene). Also, step grandchildren Ava and Hunter Oliver and Leo Lawler-Shields; niece and nephews Lindsay, Craig and Robert Elkins and Robert's children Jamie and Landon Elkins.

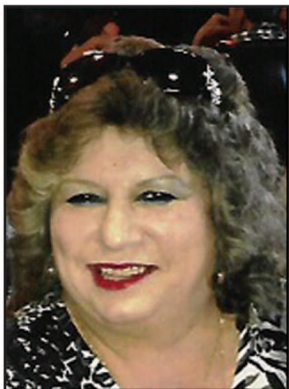

A memorial reception and service will be held on Monday, May 7. The reception will be from 10 to 12, with the service at noon at the Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay Saint Louis. The scattering of ashes will be private at a later date. In lieu of flowers the family requests that donations be made to the Humane Society of South Mississippi, 2615 25th Ave., Gulfport, MS 39501 or a charity of your choice. The family is grateful for the care provided by Gulfport Memorial Hospital, particularly by nurses Cathy and Janet. Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis, MS is in charge of the arrangements.

Murphree, Andrian Bennett, Jenna Raye and Kelsie Thornton; grandson Thomas B. Murphree, IV; numerous nieces, nephews, cousins and other family members and dear friends.

A Celebration of life will be held Tuesday, April 24, 2018 at Saint Clare's Parish Hall in Waveland, MS. The family will receive guests from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. with a Mass at 1:00 p.m. reception to follow.

A special thank you to the people she loved: family, friends, loyal patrons, bartenders; and also Bay St. Louis Police and Edmond Fahey Funeral Home and staff. A heartfelt thank you to the Silver Slipper Casino for their friendship and continued support of Harold and Lillian's and the Clermont Harbor Community. Strong said that Guitreau, who is the father of four children, has "little time on the books."

"After that runs out, he won't be receiving money from the city," Strong said. "Several city employees have already offered to donate their time to him. Our biggest goal is to take care of his fiancée and kids. We asked his fiancée what the kids like to eat so we could go to Sam's and pick up food. That's one less burden on her."

In addition to the city of Bay St. Louis, several groups such as the Blue Knights Motorcycle Club, are already planning fundraising efforts.

Anyone who would like to donate to Guitreau and his family can contact Strong at 228-467-4736.

abandoned with no lawful occupants," Skinner said. "Utility services appeared to have been illegally connected. On both occasions, the house was found to be in deplorable condition, with exposed electrical hazards, structural failures, and the interior littered with garbage, rotted food, and used syringes. The investigation is ongoing and further arrests are expected. Bay St. Louis building officials are working to resolve the issue of the blighted property being a continuing health hazard and drug house."

"We are pleased with the cooperation between agencies that allowed us to shut down what was essentially a flop house for drug dealing and prostitution," Hancock Sheriff Ricky Adam said in the release. "We would like to encourage the public to continue to support our efforts by contacting us with information on illegal activities."

MARY ELIZABETH (MIMI) MCCONNELL SHERROUSE

Mary Elizabeth (Mimi) McConnell Sherrouse was born October 2, 1924, in Monroe, LA, returning at 14 with her family to their hometown of New Orleans. She passed away April 11, 2018, in New Orleans. Preceded in death by her beloved husband, John Walton Sherrouse, Jr, her parents, Suzanne Bringier and Samuel Logan McConnell, two children, Leigh Walton Sherrouse and Trista S Neilson, brother, Trist McConnell (Helen), sisters, Myrthé Byrne (Jack) and Stella Faris (Warren), a grandson and a nephew. She is survived by her children. Victoria, Peter (Sally), Stella (Bill Schramm), Charles and Mark, 11 grandchildren, 9 great-grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews.

Mimi graduated from Sophie B. Wright and Newcomb College where she majored in Sociology and was a member of Chi Omega sorority. She graduated a year early, in 1944, to join the WASPs, first getting her radio certification and solo pilot's license. When the WASP program closed as her class was called up, she was heart-broken but determined to help the war effort, going instead to Chicago to work in an airplane factory. In Chicago, she met an old friend from New Orleans stationed there, Walton Sherrouse. They married July 12, 1947, at Christ Church Cathedral. Mimi worked in service-oriented positions throughout her life from early stints at the Red Cross and original Ochsner Clinic, to later positions as Program and Volunteer Director at the YWCA and Volunteer Coordinator at East Jefferson Hospital. She was both a professional and strong personal advocate for volunteerism. Mimi moved to Waveland, MS, in 1984 and retired 2 years later. After Katrina's total destruction there, she determined to return from a 9-month displacement to rebuild, saying she wanted to help her community come back. Mimi volunteered with a local church helping others recover, living over 5 years in temporary housing while waiting for her own house. Her new home was built a few months after her 86th birthday.

The undergirding of Mimi's life was her faith in God through Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior. She believed in Jesus as a small child in Sunday School at First Presbyterian of Monroe where a family friend took her and her older brother each week. Mimi never wavered in her deeply held "knowing," as she put it, sowing seeds of faith in her children and persevering during challenging times. She disdained pretense and prejudice, instilling these values by example in her family and those who knew her well. In middle-age, she began deepening her understanding of Scripture through classes with Trinity Christian Community, where she also worked and volunteered, and later with Bible Study Fellowship. She attended BSF classes over 30 years, until ill-health prevented a few months before her death. For funeral arrangements she long requested a simple wood casket, "no eulogies - only Jesus," the hymn, Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise, and for the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah to be played, which was played also at her wedding. The family would like to thank her long-time doctors, Leonard Glade, Anthony Lama, and Sudhanva Wadgaonkar of Touro Infirmary and their staffs for their superlative, devoted and compassionate care throughout Mimi's last decades.

A Funeral Service was at Christ Church Cathedral Chapel, 2919 St. Charles Ave., New Orleans on Friday, April 20, 2018 at 1:30 p.m. followed by a burial in Lafayette Cemetery No. 1.

In lieu of flowers, please kindly consider donations to Mimi's favorite ministry, Zion's Hope, PO Box 783369, Winter Garden, FL, 34778-3369, or to the charity of your choice.

school, elementary school, they're stranded. And there are times you can't even get a high water vehicle back there. So that bridge has to be put in, there's no two other ways about it, the quicker the better."

Lietz added that hurricane season is approaching and - without the bridge - "you're not even going to get emergency vehicles back there."

Next, the board opened bids for the removal and replacement of Everett Branch Bridge on Flat Top Road. The first bid was from SCI Inc. for a total project cost of $395,492. The second bid was from Gill's Crane and Dozer Services Inc. for a total project cost of $344,287. The board approved a motion to take the bids under advisement.

In a separate matter, the board approved IT improvements for the Youth Court building located on Court Street.

Jason Banz, with the county's IT department, told the board that the building is "lacking network connections."

Right now, there are two networks, a wireless network through the Mississippi Supreme Court network; and the other is a home network.

"This facility houses probably some of the most sensitive data and we're treating it like a public house," he said.

Banz said it would cost about $11,000 to bring the network back "up to speed."

The board unanimously approved a motion authorizing the IT improvements.

In other action:

Hancock County Board of Supervisors President Blaine LaFontaine told the board that he's been thinking of ways the county can make enhancements at McLeod Park and the arena.

He asked county attorney Gary Yarborough if the board could look at public/private partnerships or bid processes with companies that own amenities such as a zip line.

In relation to the arena, LaFontaine said, there are about 80 acres there and a race track. He suggested that the county needs to look at how it can maximize and engage the potential at the arena. He also suggested that the arena could be designed to look similar to Neshoba County's.

"Legally, what can you do and do you have the private sector investment to start that growth, and I think we would," LaFontaine said.

"But we have to look at surveys and plats for a master design of the arena that would be a multi-year-phased bidding process."

Yarborough said he would look into both matters and have more information at the next meeting.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 7 at 9 a.m.

still under investigation.

Strong said that doctors removed Guitreau's spleen because it had ruptured and also worked on both of his legs, which were both broken.

Once the swelling goes down, Strong said, doctors plan to work on the right leg again. Guitreau is currently on a ventilator to help with pain, Strong added.

Guitreau has been with the department for about three years, Strong said. He was previously a volunteer firefighter.

"He's passionate about his job and loves it," Strong said. "He's been a good firefighter. It's too early to tell if he will

The Bay High Lady Yigers shut the doors on their season with a 10-16-1 overall record and a 3-5 division mark. Our Lady Academy end their season with a 3-13 overall mark. The Crescents final game was a 13-1 loss to Perry Central on Tuesday, April 17th. Madison Burrell had a hit while Tina Robert's had an RBI single in the loss. Grace Koons tallied two hits and scored the lone run for the Crescents.

OLA head coach Frank Yanok stated, "This year was a rebuilding year. We have almost all starters returning next year. Our two seniors - Alex Necaie and Leah Turminello - have done a great job for us and really worked hard with the younger players. We made some really positive progress from where we began the season. The players never hung their heads or quit. They remained positive throughout the season and we are expecting marked improvement for next season."

The Lady Hawks stormed into the postseason with a mercy rule 11-0 victory over Picayune on Tuesday evening in Kiln.

During the game, USM signed Kaylan Ladner fanned her 200th batter for the season. She ended the game with 11 strikeouts to give her 202 for the year.

The Lady Hawks put up six runs in the first inning to establish the pace and did not let up. In the fourth inning, PRCC signee Brooke Fagan sparked the crowd with a two-run home run over the centerfield fence to push the score to 9-0. In the game, Ladner had two hits and two RBIs and Brailly Smith added two doubles and three RBIs. Lexi Turner had two hits and two RBIs while Fagan had two hits and two RBIs. Skylynn Parker, Jennah Necaie, Paige Jordan and Lana Stallings all had one hit.

Hancock head coach Bo Breland commented, "We are very proud of Kaylan Ladner achieving 200 strikeouts for the season. We did not start her every game as we got other girls action on the mound. She has been very effective and is posting a 0.37 ERA. We went through a lull at the plate the last three weeks or so but seem to be coming out if it at the right time. We have several girls hitting at .400. This was a good win for our seniors - Kaylan Ladner, Brailly Smith, Lexi Turner, Lana Stallings, Brooke Fagan and Anna Peterson - all of whom have had a profound effect on our program. We wish them well and are ready for the postseason to begin."

The Rock-a-chaws traveled to Northeast Jones (19-5, 7-3) for the first game of a best-of-three series on Friday night. The Rocks will host Game 2 today at 2pm. If they win the series, they will play the winner of the Purvis/McComb series.

The Pass Christian Pirates traveled to West Lauderdale (21-2, 10-0) for the first game of a best-of-three series. The Pirates host Game 2 today at 2pm. If they advance to the second round, they will play the winner of the Sumrall/Raymond series.

The Lady Hawks hosted

Game 1 of a beat-of-three series against George County (13-7, 4-2) on Friday night. The Lady Hawks travel today to George County for a possible double-header. Of the Lady Hawks advance to the second round, they will play Region 7 #1-seed Ocean Springs.

The Pass Christian Lady Pirates traveled to Northeast Jones (14-7, 6-2) for Game 1 of a best-of-three series. The Lady Pirates host Game 2 today and will travel on Monday for Game 3, if necessary.

First Lady, Deborah Bryant, Reads to STUDENTS AT SOUTH HANCOCK ELEMENTARY

Photos courtesy of Hancock County School District

The First Lady of Mississippi, Deborah Bryant, visited with South Hancock Students recently as part of her Read Across Mississippi Tour. Mrs. Bryant reads to students across the state to promote literacy and a love of reading. During her visit she read Groovy Joe: Ice Cream and Dinosaurs and The Fib to approximately 50 kindergarten and 1st grade students. The 4th grade chorus welcomed her with a special song and the kindergarten and 1st grade students presented her with a special work of art they created.

Congreeman Steve Palazzo speaks at Diamondhead VFW Post 2880 monthly meeting

SEA COAST ECHO

Diamondhead VFW Post 2880 held its monthly meeting on 4 April 2018. Prior to conducting our regular business, we were privileged to have US Congressman Steve Palazzo as our guest speaker. He presented Vietnam War 50th commemoration books, and a Vietnam Veterans Proclamation signed by President Trump to 28 Vietnam Veterans. Congressman Palazzo delivered an outstanding speech to the Post while recognizing each Vietnam Veteran by name. It was probably the largest crowd we have had at a Post meeting.

After the ceremony Post Commander Jerry Peppenger called our Post business meeting to order with the pledge of allegiance to the flag and opening prayer by Adjutant Ball. District 1 Senior Vice Commander Patrick McCarthy addressed the Post on the upcoming District meeting on 5 May and encouraged members to attend that meeting. We appreciated his visit and are grateful for his leadership and continued support. In fact he stated that he was impressed at the way Post 2880 conducts business and supports veterans programs.

Quartermaster Doug Maxwell read a letter from the VFW National Home for Children. A motion was made to donate $300.00 to the home and approved by a vote of members.

Senior Vice Commander Don Crosby reported on the memorial ceremony performed by our Post for deceased Post member Vincent Thompson. He also reported on his and Adjutant Don Ball's recent meeting with the State Commander and State Adjutant. State Commander Norman Copeland congratulated Post 2880 for its outstanding service to veterans, and especially our support to homeless veterans.

Reed Walker reported on our upcoming poppy drive for Memorial Day in May. We still need 12 more volunteers to man poppy stations.

The election of new VFW Post 2880 officers was conducted at the meeting. By acclamation all current officers were re-appointed with the exception of the Quartermaster position. Leonard R Servield was elected as the new Quartermaster by a majority vote of members. Post officers are: Commander, Jerry Peppenger; Senior Vice Commander, Donald Crosby; Junior Vice Commander Donald Laird; Chaplain, Robert Garrett; Quartermaster, Leonard Servield; 1st Trustee, Bob Meith; 2nd Trustee, Walter Piper; 3rd Trustee, Charles Ingraham.

New member Bob Emry was sworn in by Commander Peppenger. After many years of faithful and outstanding service as Post Quartermaster, Doug Maxwell is stepping down. His expertise and dedication will be missed.

The meeting adjourned with a closing prayer and salute to the flag of our great nation.

Dicey is a calm, 2 year old, Black Mouth Cur/Labrador Retriever mix. She is a little shy at first meeting, but she blooms with a gentle approach and lots of love. At our adoption events, Dicey loved interacting and playing with children of all ages. She gets along well with other dogs, and she's shown no interest in the kitties in our cat room, so we feel she could easily join a home with existing pets. What Dicey seems to crave most is love and affection. She does seem tentative initially, as if people have not always been kind to her. We hope that is not the case, but we are working on rebuilding her confidence. She walks like a champ, and enjoys the companionship of taking a walk with a human friend. She is super sweet, and deserves a second chance to know unconditional love. Come by the shelter at 7175 Texas Flat Rd, Kiln, to meet Dicey. You just might fall for this mellow, loving girl. Call 466 4516 for more information on this baby, and visit our Facebook page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of her, and of our many other wonderful, deserving, adoptable animals, looking for their forever homes.

2018 Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship Awarded to Abby Guy

SEA COAST ECHO

Abby Frances Guy, a senior at Our Lady Academy, has been awarded the $3,000 Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship for 2018. She becomes the thirty-third recipient of the scholarship, awarded annually by a board of directors to a superior foreign language student from any of the high schools in Hancock County.

Guy, who has excelled in four years of Spanish at OLA, has been accepted at Emory University, where she will pursue a Bachelor's in International Affairs with a double minor in Spanish and French and where she plans to undertake study for a Master's after completing her undergraduate degree.

A member of the National Honor Society, the Spanish Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta Mathematics Honor Society, and the National Society of High School Scholars as well as the winner of the American History Award and the College Board AP Scholar Award, Guy in 2014 served as a Europe Ambassador for People to People. An experienced traveler in nine European countries, Guy plans to take full advantage of study-abroad programs while a student at Emory University.

Her "dream career," she says, is that of a Humanitarian Affairs Officer in the United Nations.

"With Spanish being the second most widespread language in the world, I believe it is essential to have knowledge of conversational Spanish, . . . especially with my intended career," she adds, noting that she chose French as a second minor for her college degree because the United Nations Humanitarian Affairs division, as part of the UN Secretariat, uses French and English as its two official languages.

Already studying French on her own, she hopes to build on her earlier introduction in middle school to Mandarin, the most widely spoken tongue on the globe, and add that language to her linguistic repertory.

Marie Bartels, Guy's Spanish teacher at Our Lady Academy, describes her as "outstanding," writing that in her more than forty years of teaching in various public and private schools, she has "been privileged to teach a student of Abby Guy's caliber about a dozen times."

Guy is the daughter of Ray and Dena Guy of Diamondhead, MS. She will begin her studies at Emory University in the fall.

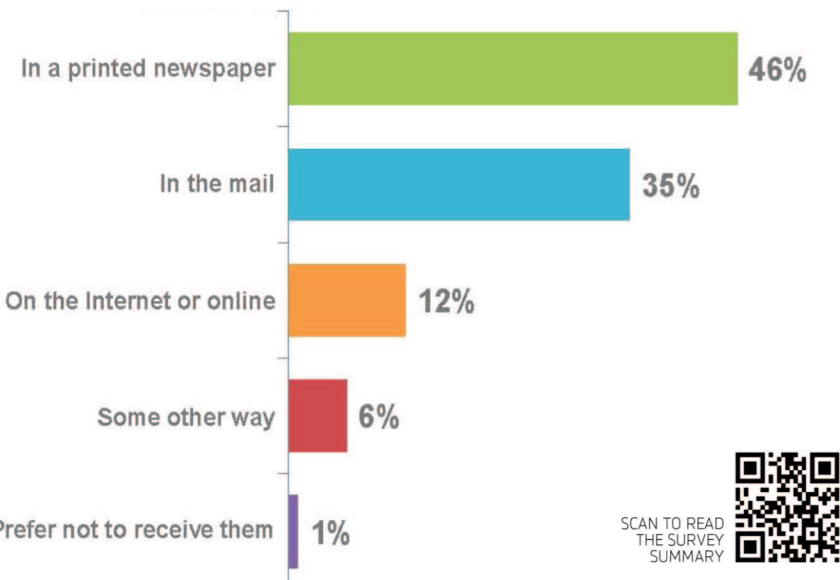

Research reveals that people are more absorbed and attentive when they read newspaper content.

No matter how The Sea Coast Echo® captures a reader's attention, we are remarkably successful at keeping it. An NRS survey says newspaper readers are more relaxed than TV viewers and radio listeners and less likely to be multi-screening. In fact, the 36 million who pick up a paper spend over an hour reading and don't multi-screen at all. Nothing works like The Echo works.

The government's business is your business.

And Mississippians count on their newspapers to keep apprised of public notice advertising.

Half of Mississippi adults recall reading or seeing public notice advertising in a local or state newspaper.

And almost half (46%) of adults who have seen public notice advertising prefer to receive them in a printed newspaper, much higher than any other source.

Most Mississippians (87%) say keeping the public informed through public notices and legal advertising is an important requirement for government agencies. And the preferred method of receiving these notices is in a printed newspaper along with their associated web-sites.

According to a 2013 Advertising and Media Use Survey*, legal ads in printed newspapers have a much higher credibility than other media.

Over 1.5 million Mississippians read their local newspaper. Whether in print, online or on the go, newspapers are the leading source of information for Mississippi.

DEVOTIONAL PAGE

THROWING AWAY OUR VALUABLES

It is amazing what people throw away and don't realize what they have gotten rid of. I have a friend that works for a landfill as a bulldozer operator. His sole responsibility is to push trash into areas that will be covered by dirt so the land can eventually be used again.

This concept of landfill is a good idea because we have so much trash on this earth that we need to put it somewhere. Why not bury it in the earth and cover it up. One would have to guess what the earth will look like and have inside its confines a 1000 years from now.

As my friend works each day he helps individuals that bring their own trash or personal belongings to this landfill. Many will back their cars or trucks up to certain areas and dump what they do not want any more. It is strictly amazing at the products and items brought to this landfill. The old saying "one man's trash is another man's treasure" is a very true statement. I really have to believe that some people have no idea of what they are throwing away.

The same holds true for our personal lives also. So many of us walk this earth and don't realize what we have and the opportunities that are lying in front of us and waiting for us to absorb them. We see and hear what God can and will do for us and all He asks is that we believe on Him and accept Him as our Lord and Savior. Once we do this our lives will change and the old sinful nature that we are used to will not be important any more.

Every day that my friend works he will notice something that has been discarded by individuals or hauled in by a trash truck that will catch his attention. On many occasions he has found valuables such as jewelry, piggy banks with money, furniture, clothes, and many other items that have worth being discarded by someone who didn't take the time to realize what they really had.

All of us have valuable items that will be left behind when we leave this earth. These valuables will be discarded by someone who is not willing to check out their worth and will throw them away. All of us need to realize that we are valuable to God and all He asks us to do is accept Him through faith and our reward will be eternity with Him. It is a shame that so many of us do not realize what God offers us through Jesus and we throw away the opportunity of eternal salvation. Once we accept Jesus into our hearts, then nothing else on earth has the value we put on it. Missing out on eternity is missing out on God's plan for us.

We have become so entwined into what the world is telling us that many are not willing to let go of the old sinful nature and accept God's amazing grace. Many people are discarding the most precious possession you can have by throwing it away just as people have thrown out good objects into a landfill. We need to remember what the Psalmist tells us in Psalm 78:32, "In spite of all this, they kept on sinning; in spite of all his wonders, they did not believe."

ASK A RHINOCEROS

Q: How did you get your name?

A: We get our name from our most famous body part — our horns. The word rhinoceros comes from the Greek rhino (nose) and ceros (horn).

Q: Why do you roll around in mud?

A: Our skin may look tough, but it's actually very sensitive. We can suffer from sunburn. And insects like to bite us, and that really bugs us. So, we cover our skin in mud for protection. Plus, that cool mud feels so good on hot days!

Q: What do rhinos eat?

A: We use our horns to dig up roots and break branches, not for fighting. We are

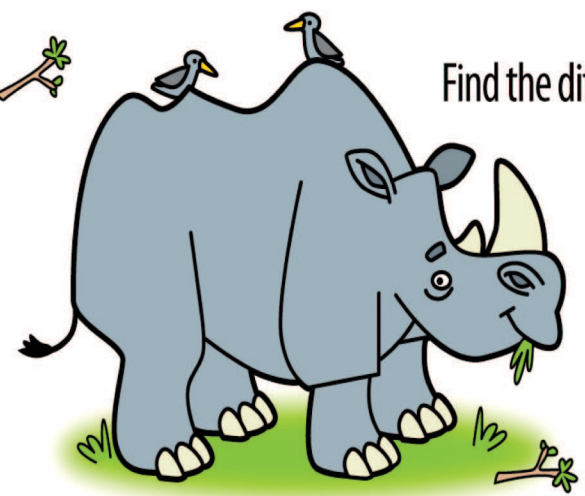

Use the Rhino Secret Code!

= B	= H	= O	= S
= E	= I	= R	= V

Q: What's with your ears?

A: While our eyesight is poor, we have excellent hearing! Our ears can move independent of each other. When one is tilted forward, the other can be directed backward. Or both may perk straight up when we hear an interesting sound.

Q: Why are all those little birds on you?

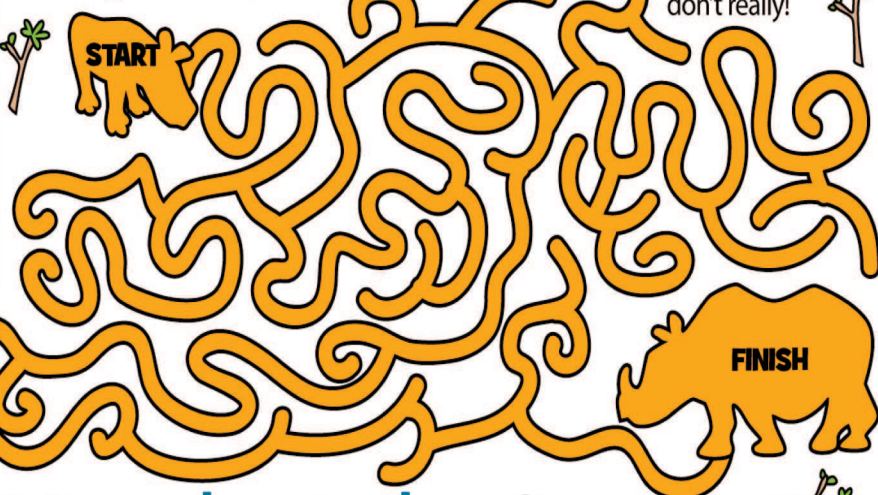

A: Our fine feathered friends are called oxpeckers. They eat ticks and bugs crawling around our skin, ears and eyes. Such a relief!

Q: Sometimes you charge into trees and boulders. Why?

A: Because our eyesight is not very good, we've been seen charging at boulders or trees that we mistake as attackers. This gave us a reputation for having a bad temper, but we don't really!

Q: How big are baby rhinos?

A: Rhinos give birth to one calf at a time, which weighs over 100 pounds!

Q: Do you have two horns?

A: There are five kinds of rhinos: black, white, Sumatran, Javan, and Indian. Javan and Indian rhinos have only one horn. Sumatran, black and white rhinos have two.
